Canyon River Ranch's Release 2012

The 2012 Release comes from our very own vineyard located on the Canyon River Ranch. It's a meaty, beefy, smoky wine. Smoked meats, cured bacon fat, chocolate, blackcurrants and licorice nuances flow to a full-bodied, impeccably balanced, seamless Syrah that has nicely integrated acidity, ripe tannin and a great finish. 65

Sheridan Block 1 Reserve Cab Franc

The sensational 2014 Block 1 is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon that was brought up all in new French oak. It's an extraordinary Cabernet from Washington that will easily stand up to the first growths of Bordeaux in a blind tasting. Tobacco leaf, blackcurrants, toasted bread, lead pencil and spice are just some of the nuances here, and it's full-bodied, silky and seamless on the palate. 149

Sheridan L'Orage

Cab Sauv based, with a small amount of Cab Franc, from the same two blocks, Notes of Cassis, leafy herbs, smoke tobacco, lead pencil shavings and incense all give way to a full-bodied, decadent, sexy red. It tastes like a blend of Pontet Canet and Shafer Hillside Select. 70

Sheridan Boss Block Cab Franc

The 2014 Boss Block yields serious notes of black fruits, damp earth, dark chocolate and leafy herbs.

These flow to a rich, full-bodied wine that has an expansive, voluptuous texture, gorgeous mid-palate concentration and a great finish. Reminding me of the 2008 Cheval Blanc (it has a voluptuousness on the palate similar to the 2009!), it remains to be seen how well this cuvee evolves, but my money is firmly on it have two decades of longevity. It's unquestionably the greatest vintage of this cuvee made and should not be missed. 65
